THE UNWRITTEN LAW.

The "unwritten law" was widely discussed during the trial of Harry Thaw. There was not a newspaper in the country that did not air its views on it, either for or against. Some able editors argued seriously in its favor, others as seriously against it and some wrote jestingly of it. There is undoubtedly an unwritten law that deals with certain offenses and of which our courts must take cognizance, but where the jurisdiction of the laws of the land end and the unwritten one begins will always be a problem that will to a great extent, remain unsolved. Too much indulgence in the unprinted statute will have a demoralizing effect on our civilization, so that it is the duty of our courts to frown on any attempt, no matter how well justified, to invoke it. But notwithstanding this fact and the efforts taken by well meaning and sincere courts to blot it out, the unwritten law will survive them all. It may be, as has been said, that our boasted civilization is only a veneer that covers the savage; but the unsolved laws of the savage are often better and always less intricate, than those of his civilized brother.

The London press was amazed that the bones of the late T. C. Bruce should be found in his grave. The supposition seems to have been that he was occupying someone else's six feet of earth.

A Boston child awoke in the night with a toothache, discovered the house was on fire and saved seven lives. But that's no sign that waking up at night with a toothache means the house is on fire. It might be burglars.

Although Taft has apparently succeeded in capturing the Republican machine of Ohio, he is a long way from the presidential chair or even the Republican nomination.

Despite the fact that the Berlin court decided that Count von Moltke did not use cosmetics, he was well whitewashed.

France and Germany seem to be taking the maneuvers of the American battleship fleet rather seriously.

The assassins in Pinal county took pains to see that their victims would not come to life.

EX-PRESIDENTS.

Hitherto the American people have not seriously faced the by no means minor issue of dignified, generous and sensible treatment and use of the men who have been honored by election to the presidency, and have been retired. The fact that ex-President Cleveland has felt it necessary to speak on such a delicate subject will force upon citizens more thought of the matter. The problem really is dual. It is whether the state can in any way utilize the experience and wisdom of those who have served it, and second, whether, independent, of any such service, there is not an obligation to provide that one who has been in so lofty a post shall not be forced, by pecuniary needs, to resort to a struggle for income, from which he may or may not emerge with dignity or with honor. Mr. Cleveland is of the opinion that the nation should provide a retiring allowance for ex-presidents, which will set them free from re-entering business or the professions, and leave them at liberty to serve society, privately or officially. This argument comes, he it noted, from a political disciple of Jefferson. It is a plea of a sensible Democrat.

TRAMPS KILLED IN NEVADA WRECK

Engine Starts by Itself and Crashes Into Fast Freight Train at Elko.

ELKO, Nev., January 2.—A frightful wreck occurred on the west end of the Elko railroad yard today. Two men were killed, three injured and eleven cars smashed to splinters and piled up in terrible confusion. The local freight, westbound, was standing on the side track for another freight to pass. The engineer left the engine for a moment, when it started up, and the fireman was on top of the tender passing coal to the front end of the engine. The engine cab had no attention in fact when the engine started. Train No. 1728 was pulling in at the rate of 25 miles an hour and the engine and three cars passed the switch. When the runaway engine struck the rear end of the fifth car it ploughed through it and into the four cars following. Five tramps were on the sixth and seventh cars of the eastbound train. Two were so badly mangled as hardly to be recognized as human beings. Another was injured about the head and body; another had his hip broken and the fifth escaped uninjured. One of the men killed was G. T. Ballard of Moore, Mont. The name of the other has not been learned.

CARRIE NATION

certainly smashed a hole in the barrooms of Kansas, but Ballard's Horehound Syrup has smashed all records as a cure for coughs, Bronchitis, Influenza and all pulmonary diseases. T. C. H., Horton, Kansas, writes: "I have never found a medicine that would cure a cough so quickly as Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it for years." Sold by Palace Pharmacy.

Should Women Smoke in Public

Now New York is in strenuous debate on the question. At the best hotels in the city it is said that women are not permitted to smoke in the public dining-room, because the people of this country do not look upon smoking as a womanly thing, and because to allow it would tend to lower the tone of the place. In a few well-known restaurants it was learned that employees were instructed to govern themselves by circumstances, and if women made no special display in smoking to overlook the act. In some others they can smoke to their heart's content. Only in New York would such a discussion arise. There is very well-grounded suspicion in other cities that some ladies enjoy a cigarette occasionally, but they pick time and place to do so. Smoking is a man's vice, and women should let him have a monopoly of it. But if smoke she must, by all means let her do it somewhere else than in public places.—Baltimore News.

A Positive Necessity.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. I can cheerfully recommend it as the best medicine for bruises ever sent to the afflicted. It has now become a positive necessity upon myself. D. B. Byrnes, Merchant, Doverville, Texas. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Palace Pharmacy.

Mercedes—Oh, yes, it must have been. There wasn't a man in the house.—Cleveland Leader.

Schooling for Soldier's Children

The conditions confronting officers and men who have children to educate are simply pitiful. Many an officer is at this moment in debt, and paying interest on borrowed money, so that he may send his son or his daughter to a good school, or keep them in some city where their education will be continuous and uninterrupted. No matter of domestic economy touches officers more deeply than this of the children's education.

The so-called "post schools," now established, and to which children are sometimes sent through absolute necessity because of isolation, are a farce, for the officer having the high sounding title of "superintendent of post schools" is generally so fully occupied with other engaging military duties that he can give little or no attention to the school development and system, while the man who is teacher has usually never acted in that capacity before.—Army and Navy Life.

If a cough gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by Hanna's drug store, 228 Broad St.

PRESIDING ELDER IS FOUND GUILTY

Methodist Divine Suspended by "Triers" for Alleged Unbecoming Conduct.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., January 2.—Nine "Triers" appointed to hear the charges preferred against Rev. William E. Shaffer, presiding elder of the west district of the Philadelphia Methodist Episcopal conference, returned a verdict tonight against the accused. While no specifications have been made officially as to the nature of the charges, it is believed that Shaffer is charged with "conduct unbecoming a minister" in his relations with Mrs. Martha D. Echley, postmistress at Morgantown, W. Va. The triers simply decided that the charges had been substantiated and Shaffer was suspended from all ministerial service and church privileges pending the meeting of the Philadelphia conference in March, before which he will be formally tried.

The charges against Shaffer are based principally upon the finding of an unsigned letter which it is alleged he received from Mrs. D. Echley while he occupied rooms at the home of Mrs. L. M. Shaw. Shaffer refused to comment upon the verdict, although he admitted the result was a surprise. The case has caused a sensation in church circles.

THE JOY OF LIFE

I do not wish for riches vast,
Nor fame or high estate;
I do not care when I walk past,
To have men call me great.
The joy of life is all I ask,
In perfect peace to dwell;
Beneath the summer sun to bask,
To live and dream a spell.

Good health is but my one desire,
With just a friend or two;
A wife to love me and inspire
In what I have to do.
The joy of living is enough,
No greater boon can be;
Then, though my roads be ever so rough,
Content shall dwell with me.

For one need not be rich or great,
Or even known to fame;
'Round humble cot or vast estate
Earth's glories are the same.
The same sun shines upon us all,
The same stars gleam at night;
The flowers that deck the garden wall
The poorest man may sight.

Then grant to me the joy of life,
And I'll not ask for more;
For in the heat of bitter strife,
I know when it is o'er.
Beneath God's sky I'll take my rest
And glory in it's blue;
With peace and love within my breast
As God meant we should do.
